“Santorini's most deluxe hotel is a world unto itself. Every luxury is provided and the service is impeccable. The old vaulted dining room is the prettiest on Santorini. The spacious suites, in pastel-hued town houses, have marble bathrooms, island-style furnishings, and terraces. Vedema is not cheap, but you'll see what you're paying for.”

“With its pastel “houses”, its exotic arches, its rough stone walls, walkways and courtyards, Vedema feels like some fantasy fortress that Bertolucci might use as a film location”

Travel & Leisure magazine

“I love this hotel because you can stay on the property for an entire week and still eat beautifully, be coddled by the staff and always be acutely aware of being on Santorini - and feel blessed that you are”

“The sleepy village of Megalohori is not where you'd expect to find a luxury hotel, but Santorini is full of surprises. The hotel is a self-contained world, surrounded by a wall like a fortified town. Vedema is justly proud of its attentive but unobtrusive service.”
